Apartment 301 was occupied by a male resident.

As perhaps expected of a single bachelor, the young man appeared at the door in scruffy attire. Regardless, I was relieved to meet a normal person for once.

He looked to be a bit younger than I was.

He scratched his head and blinked sleepily at me.

<Kae>

"Hi, my name's Yuuki. I just moved into #201 downstairs.

Sorry if I woke you..."

Being a freelancer myself, I was in no position to judge him for keeping a weird sleep schedule.

totally destroyed my controller playing this 10/10 would do it again. A competent game with fun challenges, although as a fair warning, there are several places during normal gameplay where the difficulty spikes until you've spent some time grinding.. nettes einfaches game für zwischendurch mit der coolen mücke spielt es sich gleich geiler,son cop wäre ich gerne wie in der englischen version leider ist auch diese stark zenziert,was haken#kreuze.hitl#er paints betrifft.. The ALP-46 is a great piece of equipment to operate, but from a standing point of its price tag, it needs improvement.

The model quality is a step down from the Bombardier ALP-45DP included with the North Jersey Coast Line; some of its dimensions don't feel right, especially the K5LA horn model and cab shape.

The ATCVACSES cab signalling works perfectly fine, but I'm no fan of the display screen found in the ALP-46. The inclusion of an ALP-46A would be grateful of DTG as it features an easier to understand SDU (speed display unit) identical to that of the ALP-45DP. I am a resident of the North Jersey Coast Line and I see ALP-46As very regularly, so why not include an ALP-46A?

The default sounds are not at all great, but there is an excellent freeware sound and physics pack from Fan Railer that is a must have if you own this DLC.

I would boost the score if there was an additional ALP-46A (higher power output, speedometer like ALP-45DP) variant and Multilevel coaches included with the pack. $20 for a single locomotive and recycled equipment is just a disgrace.

EDIT: The Multilevel coaches were a much needed freebie for the pack. The models are probably one of DTG's best, which includes three, yes THREE variants of the MLV! In addition to the usual cab car and coach there is also a lavatory coach (72XX) that is listed as "special" in the consist editor or world editor. Disappointingly the original sounds are aliased to the Comet V sounds, so it is best to download Fan Railer's ALP-46 physics mod that will provide authentic door sounds for the MLVs and Comet coaches.

Overall I can give the NJT ALP-46 pack a final score of 7/10. As of the release of the Multilevels I have boosted the score to be 8.5/10.. This Game Is Outdated.

If you have only just discovered this game be aware that you'll probably be playing alone or with one or two other players. This game once had hype unfortunately- due to the lack of updates etc. - it no longer sustains players like it used to back in 2012-2014. This game could do with a reboot although I don't think that's happening anytime soon. This game is good fun, or was, so just keep in mind if you are planning to get this game: bring a lot of friends.... Beautiful scenery, but needs a monster computer to run above 30 fps. Köln area is amazing and the Rhine is beautiful. Good trains, but the shunting scenarios are badly made

(confusing and highly uninformative)
8-9/10. Pretty cool sim, got it on sale.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=9CYxWkO\_NyM. Truly, the only person who can save the world is a random person assigned busy work of increasing absurdity that eventually leads to them having two random gems they rub together in a random room in some other dimension, which of course causes evil to finally be defeated.

Because chosen one.

This is a great game with so much potential to grow.. This game is super repetitive and simply a game to play when you are super bored and have nothing else to do. Because this isn't a serious game, I will make the review brief.

This game has no real goal, other than getting further and scoring more points. The movement is actually a bit awkward, but you get used to it. It is kind of like flappy bird, and there is nothing memorable about this game at all. On the positive side, it is super cheap and has steam trading cards.

Rating: 6.9/10

Recommend Price: $0.49 or under. Good enough game, good music and its quite simple to play. I like the little things that you can add, like change the colour of the paddle. I recommend this game because of its uniqueness. This game gets a rating. B-

FYI - THIS COMPANY DOES NOT WANT ANY VIDEOS OF THERE GAME POSTED PLEASE. I really really love this game! Good music, pretty backgrounds, and easy controls. It's something you can play for 10-15 minutes and de-stress. Super great, and I can't wait to see more backgrounds and music come out. What I noticed at the beginning was that the interface was blurry for me, but I went into options and cranked the resolution to the max and now it looks nice and crisp. I had trouble knowing what was good and what was going to kill me, but figured it out after a few failures. It would be nice if the bad stuff was a little more obvious, and the powerups were explained too. I still don't know what all the powerups do, but will learn with experience. I'd recommend this game. It's super. It's easy. It's fun.. For it's price, I'm not complaining. I like these FLIR Helo Shooters. Does seem a bit unbalanced, but I suppose that is a cheap way to keep it challenging. Really like that you can control the helo on approach, but do not like the way autopilot is nowhere near combat oriented after switching to the gunner controls...if the helo would only just continue on without shifting routes after switching to the gunner camera, I could get a whole lot more playthru. As is the game becomes played-out rather fast.. I only had to play this game for 30 minutes to know that this is the worst VR game I've ever played.

Right off the bat, it just throws you onto a tiny island telling you only how to pick things up, show your stats, and move around. It only tells you what you're supposed to do when you're 2 feet away from where you're supposed to do it, and even then, it doesn't even tell you how to do it.

Also, what is up with the physics in this game? whacking herbs with a paddle makes ropes come out, rocks and sticks are made of styrofoam, and water just defies all logic.

This game is barely complete enough to be considered early access let alone a full game. Don't purchase this game in its current state.. PURE AWESOMENESS! Controls are a bit tricky but once you master the controls, this game gets very intense! I have WAY more time in-game than Steam shows as it is playable while offline...not many games offer offline play these days. I bought it back in the day on sale for $2.49 but would gladly pay the $9.99 standard price since the game is so much fun!. I'm a relaxing player, this game make me feel assignment really isn't that hard actually..

According to the latest two Emily's, it's very obvious that the developers try to make players spend more time on it and attract new fans by encourage players sharing pics on INS and FB.

-May be difficulty adjust is more useful than expected.

What missing here is "Why you want this series? " I believe people do have different reasons to start a game. Some for good stories, some for challenges. When the two things mixed up, it seems they all feel a bit down. (at least according most Chinese comments I saw, players seek challenges was disappointed, but story lovers find it's bit struggle to proceed.)

-There could be other ways to hold audience's attention

Despite the collections getting bigger, I found I spend less time on emily than before. Can't deny collection part is a very good way to extend the game time, but decorate yards seems bit far away from the theme to me. (May be I'm wrong here, especially when I haven't finish the game yet.)

Overall, I like the game. plots and musics are awesome.

Hope Emily's story can be continued forever.
